3. What happens to these women and girls now? (What help is available to them, services and programs and are they effective?)
4. If you were in charge of services for this group of people, what would you provide for them, their families, and the community in order to address this issue?
5. Who do you think could provide these services? Who would you want to do this? What help would the WRLOs need to address it?
6. If all these services were available what would be the best outcome for these individuals, families, and the communities?
